Reid & Taylor A Glorious Legacy and Heritage.

1830- Alexander Reid

It all started in late 1830's, with the vision and foresight of one man - Alexander Reid. He foresaw the opportunity to give the world a superior quality worsted fabric.

Haywire

An early hallmark of Reid & Taylor now used to identify our Scottish wool development.

The Cheviot Sheep of the hills of Eskdale and Langholm is the source of fine quality Cheviot wool.

1840

Hand weaving loom. Since the 1840's, our cloth making processes have constantly benefitted from developments in technology.

Rupert

The aristocratic ram. The Ramshead device with Top-hat and monocle is the world wide symbol of Reid & Taylor. Affectionately known as 'Rupert', The Ramshead appears at the end of every piece of cloth woven by Reid & Taylor and all promotional material as the corporate hallmark of quality and integrity.

Shepherd's Crook

At the entrance to Reid & Taylor. A constant reminder of the care necessary to produce the very best.
